CAVIN BRICE IS A JUDAS

So Say the Democrats of This County.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDEMNATION

Passed Because the Committee Had so Arranged the Plan—That Same Old Feeling of Lethargy Was in the Convention Until the Close, and One Delegation Grew Weary and Went Home Before It is Ended.

The county Democratic convention ended as it started—in a deep sea of lethargy, the great number of delegates sitting idly by while the leaders carried out their well laid plans.

When the report of the NEWS REVIEW ended yesterday the chairman had completed his long drawn out harangue against the general public and the brainiest men of the nation, and was receiving the reports of committees. In the speech he did not neglect to warn to his subject, and in spite of the fact that his hearers sat with only an occasional sign of recognition he tramped the platform as though it was the Chicago article, and gesticulating wildly talked to the crowd much after the manner of a man who believed they knew nothing, and it was his duty to fill them to the collar with something it mattered not what it was just so the faithful could hear good names and the actions of good men dragged through the filthy political mire.

The committee on credentials found no contests, but asked a call of delegates to find how many were there. Every township was represented but Franklin, and a resident of that section who chanced to be present although not a delegate, was quickly seized upon and made to do duty. They were determined to have a full convention it mattered not what was the cost. The organization once completed gave an opportunity for the committee on rules to report which was the same old stereotyped form so well known to him who attends a convention. Then Editor Potts' commanding figure, full whiskers and all, came to the front with his resolutions, and with all the dignity he could assume placed them before the convention.

The Democrats of Columbiana county, through their delegates in convention assembled, having at heart the welfare of the whole people, declare:

First, That they have an abiding faith in the principles of the Democratic party, as enunciated in the Chicago platform, and they believe that the highest degree of prosperity for our country may be reached by an honest application of these principles in the affairs of government, national state and county.

Second, That they view with pride and satisfaction the wise statesmanship of President Cleveland, and regard him as a strong executive officer and a safe leader.

Third, That they behold with a sense of shame and humiliation the conduct of Senators Gorman, Brice, Smith, Hill and others in their efforts to defeat the will of the Democratic party in the United States senate, and regret that their votes, aided by Republican senators, caused some of the objectionable features of the McKinley bill to be left on the statute books, and that they brand these so called "conservative" senators as traitors to the cause of Democracy and in league with unlawful trusts and combinations.

Fourth, That they are justly alarmed at the rapidly increasing taxation in the county, and they appeal to all taxpayers, without regard to party, to aid in the work of reforming the dreadful abuses which have crept into the business of the county. They behold with dismay the facts that the treasury has been looted in about the sum of $15,000; that the commissioners, by reckless extravagance and unlawful fees, have run the county into debt, amounting to $50,000, and were compelled to bond the county heavily or quit business; that a defaulting treasurer is running at large and no effort has been made to enforce the law; that old time economy is lost sight of and since 1880 the taxes have increased from $102,000 to nearly $500,000, and that fearful waste of the people's money is found in every county office.

Fifth, That they extend to the laboring masses everywhere their deepest sympathy in their struggles for fair wages and they pledge to them their support in an honest effort to resist the wrongful encroachment of capital on the rights of laboring men.

Sixth, That they favor the remonetization of silver and that gold, silver and greenbacks be the money of the people without discrimination in favor of either. They believe that the chief cause of our late financial troubles is due to the disgraceful treatment of the American silver dollar, and that a renewal of confidence in silver as money will do more toward bringing about permanent prosperity to our people than all other legislative acts put together.

These seemed to meet the approbation of the delegates. They liked it. There was nothing in the lot that they had not heard discussed many, many times before, and being close adherents to ancient custom and doctrine, they were glad that a Moses had been found to lead them out of the darkness they feared would come with any progressive spirit. The idea of calling Senator Brice a Judas was pleasing. They had to give it to some one, and having no Republican administration to condemn they sought out one of their own party, not so much because he was distasteful, but because it is customary to condemn some one. Then came the nominations. They all seemed to think that they could capture a commissioner, and as a result many men wanted the job. Hand-over presented the name of Charles Wernett, Middleton was there for Thomas C. Dyke, Unity wanted W. C. Wallace, and Wayne was pledged to Anthony Rice. The ballot when taken was as follows:

Center, Wernett 2; Dyke 2; Wallace 2; Rice 1. Elk Run, Wallace 2; Rice 1. Fairfield, Wallace 6. Franklin, Wernett 2. Hanover, Wernett 4. Knox, Wernett 5. Liverpool, Wallace 12. Dyke 1. Madison, Dyke 3. Perry, Wernett 5; Wallace 4. Salem, Wallace 10. St. Clair, Wallace 2. Unity, Wallace 7. Washington, Rice 4. Wayne, Rice 2. West, Wernett 3. Yellow Creek, Wallace 1. Wellsville, Wallace 6. Total—Wernett 21, Dyke 6, Wallace 54, Rice 8.

After this there were no contests; the outcome of the belief that there was little chance to elect. Conrad Hune, of New Lisbon, was nominated for the place now held by Prosecutor Speaker, Mr. Potts presenting his name, and giving as the reason that the attorney had been instrumental in producing some information regarding the "court house steal." John F. Bowler, of Elk Run, was selected as the candidate for infirmity director, while Dr. W. M. Gilmore, of Madison, was chosen to make the race for coroner. The appointment of delegates for the congressional convention was placed at one for every 100 votes cast at the last election.

This business disposed of nothing remained but to endorse the chairman for congress, and according to the program it was done although any casual observer could plainly see that it was a cut and dried proceeding. J. C. Deidrick took the chair and the presiding officer disappeared. At first it was thought that he had been swallowed up in the fumes of his own violent language, but later it was discovered that he had only retired behind the scenes until the endorsement was given. The temporary chairman told his little story, and the crowd agreed with him. Thus the convention ended its work, and without delay went home, in fact it had been discovered that the Butler township delegation had gone some time before the convention adjourned.

The meeting of the county committee showed that it had 153 members, and there were three candidates for the presidency, A. W. Taylor, J. C. Deidrick and G. B. Aten. Taylor got 33 votes, Deidrick 66 and Aten none. Power to appoint the executive committee and secretary was left with the chairman, and the meeting adjourned.

So ended the business. After nominating a ticket, which will never be elected; condemning their own party for reforming the tariff, which was its honest promise; and endorsing a man for congress who will never see the inside of the capitol as a statesman, the delegates went home many to forget in a few short days what they had done.

BAR MEETING.

Columbiana County Attorneys Will Gather Tomorrow.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

NEW LISBON, Aug. 30—Judge Billingsley this afternoon at 2 o'clock issued a call for a meeting of the Columbiana county bar tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. The meeting is to take action on the death of the late H. E. Frost, and will be largely attended. The attorneys will attend the funeral in a body. All East Liverpool members of the bar are urged to be present.

All is Quiet.

Not a new case is docketed at the mayor's office, the city jail is empty and everywhere about the city building an air of quiet prevails. The change contemplated with regard to the rooms on the first floor of the city hall is the only thing that interests the authorities at present, and they care not how soon the remodeling process takes place.

Dangerous.

Some of the street car men are complaining of children who collect in the Diamond at night and run in front of the cars. Several have had narrow escapes.

CRISIS IS BOYCOTTED

Trades Council so Decided Last Night.

MUST SIGN THE UNION SCALE

Or Bear the Displeasure of all Union People—The Printers Have Been Out For Fourteen Months. Their Places Being Filled by Non-Union Men—They Expect to Win.

At the special meeting of trades council last evening a boycott was placed upon the Crisis because it is a rat paper, and refuses to recognize the International Typographical union.

It will be remembered that more than a year ago the paper refused to sign the scale presented by the committee from the local branch. The men struck, and for months have been without employment except what could be picked up at open offices in Wellsville, and at the NEWS REVIEW. For a time they were, according to the laws of the union, supported by contributions from the strike fund, but there was a limit to this, and they have been without other support than what work they could get. In the meantime non-union men were placed in the office, "rats" the printers call them, and the paper has been published by their work for over a year. The International is a powerful organization, by far the greatest number of daily papers in the country employing its members, and the local officers were instructed to interest other labor unions in their cause. For weeks the movement has been in progress, and culminated last night in the boycott. A committee was appointed to prepare the appeal to the people of the city, and the delegates were instructed to report to their unions that the boycott had been declared. In speaking of the matter a member of the union said that they had tried in every imaginable way to settle with the paper, but its publisher would have nothing to do with them, and their only course was to call the men to their assistance. They are now confident of winning the battle in which they have fought so long.

BAD RUNAWAY.

Reuben Price, of New Cumberland, Hurt This Morning.

Reuben Price, of New Cumberland, drove to this city this morning and met with a painful accident. He had just crossed the river, and was driving across the railroad at Second street when the horse scared and started to run. Price tried to jump, but a sudden jerk on the lines threw him over the wheels and on the road. He was dragged a short distance and then released his hold on the lines. The frightened horse continued at a high rate of speed until the water works pumping station was reached and the buggy collided with a telephone pole. This released the horse and it ran to the power house and was caught by some of the employees there. Price was badly hurt, having several gashes in his scalp from which the blood flowed freely, and his face was skinned and bruised. Monroe Patterson took him in his buggy to pursue the runaway, and they returned to a blacksmith shop on Second street to have the vehicle repaired after the chase was over. The shafts were broken but otherwise the buggy was not badly damaged.

The injured man is a brother of Mr. Price, of the Salvation army here.

A CHANGE.

Some Members no Longer With the Sewer Pipe Plant.

It is stated on good authority that a change in the ownership of two manufacturing establishments took place recently.

The plants referred to are the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson sewer pipe works at East End and the Potters' Supply company, Messrs. Isaac Knowles and E. M. Knowles having sold or traded their interest in the sewer pipe works to T. F. Anderson for the latter's interest in the supply company. A small amount of money was involved outside the stock traded. A telephone message to the office of the sewer pipe works elicited the response that Mr. Anderson was not at home, and the statement could not be confirmed.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS

For Labor Day Have Been Made, and all is Ready.

At the joint meeting of trades council and the committees having Labor Day in charge, last evening the final work of preparation was done.

The committee on badges reported that they wanted 2,100 as that number of men would be in line. Chief Frank Allison reported that police duty at the park would be done by himself and 11 assistants all of whom would take the oath Monday morning. It was decided to have Haines' band head the procession, and to accept the donation of a ton of ice from the ice company. Each local was urged to carry the American flag at its head, and it was decided to ask all business men to close their places of business at noon on Monday and join in the enjoyment at the park. Since the official program was arranged Kerr & McKinney decided to offer a handsome field glass to the winner of a three mile bicycle race, and entries will be made as for the other athletic contests.

Captain Galley Will Leave.

Captain and Mrs. Galley, who have had charge of the local corps here for almost eight months will bid farewell to the army and their other friends on Sunday next. A farewell meeting will be held, and in connection with it a harvest festival and thanksgiving. Thank offerings in the way of vegetables, canned goods, flour, butter, eggs, poultry, etc., will be thankfully received for the Salvation Army Rescue homes of this district. There is no institution a person could give his thank offering to this year that is more worthy. The army asks that all who can will help the fallen by donations. Mrs. E. A. Albright is the district secretary of this home, and will be pleased to give any information required.

Married Fifty Years.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Ramsey near Scroggsfield, Carroll county, was visited by some 400 people Tuesday who helped the couple to celebrate the fiftieth year of their marriage, or golden wedding. Among the guests were Revs. Robert George, Cleveland; Isaac Wright, Pennsylvania; W. E. Golden, Service, Pa.; David Hargest, Mechanicstown; R. G. Dunn, Scroggsfield. From this city Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stevenson, Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Mrs. Fouts and Mr. and Mrs. John Grant attended. The day was spent pleasantly by all. Mr. Ramsey was the first man in Carroll county to conduct prayer meeting, has been a Sunday school teacher for 50 years, and an elder for 30 years.

Bondsman Meeting.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

NEW LISBON, Aug. 30.—The bondsmen of Treasurer Martin are meeting today in Wellsville. They have been going through the great quantity of business before them as rapidly as possible, and will get done tonight. Expert Sant will leave here to again take up his residence in the southern part of the county. Not the slightest inkling of the finding of the expert can be obtained. Many are guessing, but those who know say nothing will be made public today.

Currents Go Up.

The representative of a New York house importing currants was in town today the day the tariff bill became a law, and calling on one of his customers informed him that the price had advanced one and one-half cents a pound, because that was the duty imposed. Now the customer is a Republican, and he got mad because he, like every other sensible man, can see nothing in placing a duty on everyone we do not produce the article. Another beauty of the Gorman bill.

A Game For Blood.

There has been considerable rivalry between the employees of the Standard Pottery company and the new end at Potters' for some time, and at last it has developed into a challenge to play ball. The game will be played on the West End grounds on Sept. 10, and will be for $25 a side. Each club has placed forfeit money in the hands of Billy Davidson and will put up the balance of the $25 on the Saturday before the game, pay day. Messrs. Jester, Stoffel and Sullivan are backers for the Standard team.

Caught in a Belt.

Lewis DeBee had his right hand caught in a belt while working at the Sebring pottery this morning, and it was pulled through the pulley and painfully injured. Beyond the injuries to a couple of fingers DeBee was not hurt although he is off work this afternoon.

Playing Ball.

The Junior and Senior Mechanics have a ball game booked for this afternoon on Rock Spring grounds, and it will be a contest for gore. Junior money is said to have gone begging at 10 to 1, so somebody must be confident that they will win.

PEACEFULLY HE PASSED

Attorney H. E. Frost is Dead at New Lisbon.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT IN THE SIDE

While Cleaning a Revolver Yesterday—Well Known in Liverpool—The Patriarch Militant to Attend the Funeral. He Was a Knight Templar.

Word was received here this morning that Henry E. Frost died last night at his home in New Lisbon.

As was detailed in the NEWS REVIEW yesterday evening Frost was cleaning a revolver when it was discharged the ball taking effect in his side. Three physicians were hastily summoned, and after a brief examination decided that the unfortunate man could not live. Every possible effort was put forward to save him, but the ball had ploughed its way into his vitals, and was rapidly eating his life away. He sank from the first, and died early in the evening.

Deceased was well known in the city, all the attorneys being his friends and a large number of acquaintances, were Odd Fellows of which order he was an honored member. He was at one time a member of Canton Rhodes, Patriarchs Militant, but left the organization when a branch was formed in New Lisbon. He became a prominent member of the order, and was raised to the honor of Past Grand Patriarch, as high as they could send him in this state. He was also a Mason having reached the dignity of a Knight Templar. Canton Rhodes will meet tonight for the purpose of arranging to attend the funeral which will take place in New Lisbon tomorrow afternoon. A number of members will leave here tomorrow morning for the county seat. Deceased was a man whose friends are faithful to his memory, and many are the expressions of regret heard here today.

Deceased will be buried tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock, and the funeral will be one of the largest and most important ever held in the county seat. State officers of the organizations to which he belongs will be present as well as the Columbiana county bar.

R. W. Taylor Will Talk.

Mr. R. W. Taylor, the Republican candidate for congress, has received an invitation from the chairman of the Republican committee of Maine, asking him to make three speeches there during the campaign. Mr. Taylor has accepted the invitation and will leave for the east early in September, as the dates selected are in the second week. The honor is appreciated not only by Mr. Taylor, but also by his friends.

A Golden Wedding.

The home of J. C. Miller, near Mechanicstown, Carroll county, was the scene of a pleasant event yesterday. It was the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Miller's fiftieth year of marriage—their golden wedding. There were present in all about 125 people and it was virtually a family reunion. Jas. A. and George Miller, of this city, sons of the couple in whose honor the affair was given, were in attendance.

The Lowest Record.

The lowest point reached by the river in the dry summer of 1854 is marked on a rock a short distance below Rochester, a river captain having cut the hole for the reference of future generations. The place was examined the other day, and it was found that the river was 2.5 inches lower at present. This means that the record is broken and no one can deny it.

Begins Tonight.

The First Presbyterian church will celebrate the sacrament of the Lord's supper on next Sabbath morning. Preparatory services will begin with preaching by the Rev. Thomas B. Anderson, of Rochester, Pa., this evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Anderson will also preach on Friday evening, Saturday afternoon and Sabbath morning and evening.

Transfers of Real Estate.

T. F. Anderson to Isaac W. Knowles and Edward Knowles, piece of ground lying south of lots 42, 48 and 54 in East Liverpool, $500.

Knowles, Taylor & Anderson company to Isaac W. and Edwin Knowles, lots 42, 48 and 54 in East Liverpool, $5,000.

A Pleasant Party.

A number of her young friends called at the home of Miss Nettie McBane, Grant street, yesterday evening, to give her a surprise party in honor of her cousin, from Salineville. The evening was spent very enjoyably by all.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, AUG. 30.

THAT "procession" yesterday was an interesting sight.

The soup house policy adopted by the Democrats in convention yesterday will never receive support in East Liverpool.

FORTUNATELY the county Democracy is harmless. Otherwise there would be cause to fear the resolutions passed at the convention.

The sugar trust will prosper, the whiskey ring will get rich, and the peanut combination will force prices to the skies now that congress has given them the power to rob the American public.

The intelligent people of Columbiana county will vote few Democratic tickets this year. They know that the men, who gathered in the opera house yesterday afternoon, decided to stand by hard times and soup houses instead of dropping into line and calling for a progressive policy that will permit the poor American to live on the same day as the wealthy importer.

WILSON, the college professor who thought he knew something of political economy and spent many days in a basement room of the capitol framing a tariff bill which even his own party failed to accept, was nominated for congress yesterday. Even though William is backed by a big majority he may, like many other members of his party, awake to find his congressional cake all dough some morning next November.

The tariff on crockery was forced down. Democracy, represented by Senator Smith, decided that the rate of duty affected wages by agreeing to place it at a given point if certain wages were paid. Now comes the Democracy of this county, and by its endorsement of the Chicago platform, declares that the duty is too high, and therefore wages are proportionately too great. Will the operative potters support a ticket which means the reduction of their wages?

WANTED—MORE POVERTY.
The Democrats as a party are obtuse. Plain evidence and ordinary testimony have little effect upon them. They require some great influence to prove that they are not in the straight and narrow way.

It is now almost two years since they obtained power at Washington, and precipitated a panic. Their efforts to kill American industry so frightened the people that none would buy. Trade flowed through its customary channels in a slow, sluggish manner. Factories were closed for want of patronage and business men unable to meet the demands of creditors went to the wall. For a year the country suffered. Then through the gloom appeared hope in the form of a few Democrats who, prompted by personal interest, fought in the interest of good government, and as a result of their efforts wages have dropped a little and the public has again taken heart. It is not as bad as it might be, although it is worse than it should be. All these things seemed as a lesson to the great majority of Americans, but the Democrats of Columbiana county will not learn. They want more poverty, more hard times, and plainly said so when they endorsed the old worn out Chicago platform yesterday. They would have the operative potters of East Liverpool suffer another of their reductions, and would gladly see the manufacturers lose every dollar they have invested. Verily it is a peculiar people who will adhere to an idea knowing by actual trial that it is wrong.

Mrs. R. B. Whitehead will reopen her kindergarten on September 3. For terms, school hours etc., apply at residence 205 Market street.

NAMED SEVEN TIMES.

A Big Convention Renominates Chairman Wilson.

HE ACCEPTS WITH GRATITUDE.

Says An Active Campaign Is Impossible On Account of Illhealth—He Praises President Cleveland's Firm Stand. Hard Blows at Faithless Democrats.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 30.—The convention that renominated W. L. Wilson of the house ways and means committee for congress, was one of the biggest and most enthusiastic conventions ever held in the state.

Chairman Wilson was accompanied there by Governor-elect Oates of Alabama and Hon. C. R. Breckinridge, the newly appointed minister to Russia. This makes the seventh time Mr. Wilson has been nominated.

In making his speech of acceptance, Mr. Wilson said he was greatly moved by this evidence of affection, but they would have to excuse his taking an active part in the campaign as heretofore, because of ill health. Then he said:

"The congress which adjourned yesterday, was charged by the people with a duty clear, unmistakable, transcendent, to secure from the grasp of private and selfish hands the power of federal taxation. To this mission the immediate representatives of the people gave themselves earnestly and faithfully. In that work they were at all times cheered and encouraged by their great leader, who for eight years in defeat and victory had led in the movement of tariff reform. While he scrupulously abstained from interference with the work of those entrusted with reform legislation, he was insistent, in season and out of season, in urging that the pledges on which we had come into power should be fulfilled in the letter and in the spirit.

"In this great work your own representative, thanks to your kindness in granting him a long public service, was assigned an important and most arduous part. No man could worthily approach such work without putting away from him any petty personal ambition and any selfish concern for his own political future. I cannot claim to have risen to the full height of this duty, but I have never faltered in the belief that you desired me to enter upon my work in this spirit and in the spirit to persevere to its close. I knew that the Democrats of West Virginia were not protectionists for West Virginia and reformers and free traders for other states. But even if I had known otherwise I should not have gone one step aside from what was to me the clear pathway of duty to all the people.

"You know, for you have followed with watchful interest the varying history of our attempt at tariff reform. You have followed with rising hopes and hearty approval of the action of the house of representatives in the framing and passage of a measure bearing the badges of Democratic principles, and fraught with promised benefits to all the people. You have followed with waning hopes and angry disapproval of their party and fortune passage of that bill through the senate, and have seen that despite a nominal Democratic majority in that body, the great trusts and monopolies were still able to write their taxes in some of its most important schedules. The burden upon you is the same whether they use a Democratic or a Republican hand as their amanuensis. But the wrong to you is infinitely the greater when those who bear the consequences of your own party, thus prove faithless to its highest duties.

"The American people have seen a single great trust using its wealth and power to thwart the best efforts of the people to reduce their taxation. They have seen it hold up congress for weeks and have heard its representatives boldly declare that there would be no tariff bill in which their interests were not protected, and they have realized the full fulfillment of that boast. When the sugar trust thus challenges the American people to a contest of strength its days are numbered.

"But there is another and a brighter side to this picture. With all its manifold failures, its final retention of many protective duties, its objectionable sugar schedule, and its excessive duties on cottons and woollens and metals, the new bill carries in it very substantial relief for the people, and must be accepted as a substantial beginning of thorough and progressive tariff reform. If we denounce some of its duties and rates, it is cause what may be much lower than the duties and rates of the McKinley bill are yet enemies in a Democratic bill.

"We have a right to confess our own shortcomings as measured by the high standard of our own principles and professions. We have a right to hold our own faithful servants to that responsibility which duty and party fidelity placed upon them. But all this does not imply dissatisfaction with our own party and its policy, and obstruct its faithful efforts to redeem its pledges, the overwhelming mass of the Democrats in the country are subject to no just criticism. They have kept the faith."

Desperate Fight Among Tramps.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 30.—A desperate fight occurred among tramps on a Lake Shore freight train between here and La Porte, Ind. Three men armed with revolvers attacked the others throwing them from the train seven miles west. Another was robbed, thrown off and badly hurt and a third was shot.

Another Ball Park Suffers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The grand stand and clubhouse of the Chicago baseball park have been destroyed by fire. The park was deserted at the time and the origin of the fire is thought to have been incendiary.

Killed by Hailstones.
VIENNA, Aug. 30.—Hailstorms have done great damage throughout Austria. At Kowno, Poland, three children were killed by hailstones.

LAKE TRADE LOOKS UP.

Navigators Pleased With the Outlook. Coal Rates Higher.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—During the past week there has been a marked improvement in the lake carrying trade. Within a few days ore rates from the upper lakes have advanced 20 cents per ton with a very light offering of tonnage. Three weeks ago many fleets or portions of them were laid up awaiting charters. Everything that will carry a cargo is in service. The vessel owners have agreed to sell themselves not to carry a pound of coal from the lower lake ports to the upper lakes at less than 50 cents per ton, and there is every indication that this figure will be freely paid and even raised within a few days. Marine men generally believe that business will be very brisk with good rates from now on till the close of navigation.

The Kisses Proved Costly.
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 30.—Philip Hann was arrested by Officer Thraill, and charged with drunkenness and insulting ladies. The evidence showed that the young man had entered a dwelling on the West side and grossly insulted the occupants of the place by seizing the ladies and kissing them. Judge Bigger said this was the most aggravated case that had ever come before him, and he was only sorry that the ordinance did not provide for a heavier sentence. He fined the man $5 and costs for drunkenness, and sentenced him to 30 days for insulting ladies.

Must Take a Reduction.
CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—The members of the Western Window Glass Manufacturers' association are in session at the Hollenden Hotel. The meeting, which is said to be an important one, is held behind closed doors. The story of the meeting is that the association is considering a reduction in the price of window glass.

The New Iron Hall.
CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—The convention of district No. 4 of the Iron Hall of Baltimore, an outgrowth of the defunct Indianapolis Iron Hall, is in session in this city. The district comprises the states of Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Alabama and Texas. The new order was formed shortly after the original Iron Hall passed into the hands of a receiver.

Accused of Killing His Child.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 30.—Albert Swope, a farmer living near Mansfield, has been brought to Dayton by the marshal of that place, and locked up in jail on suspicion that he is directly responsible for the death of his 7-month-old boy baby, which was found dead in its cradle. Swope is a young married man, and the child is the first born.

Will Teach In Hawaii.

BUCYRUS, O., Aug. 30.—Miss Florence Perrott has gone to San Francisco, from where she will sail on Sept. 1, on the steamer Australia for Honolulu, expecting to arrive at that point on Sept. 8. Miss Perrott goes to accept a position as principal of the Kamehameha schools at Honolulu, and expects to be gone two years.

Lepus Placed Under Arrest.

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 30.—Joseph P. Loran, secretary and treasurer of the Danforth & Proctor Lumber Company, who fled to Canada to escape creditors when the firm went to the wall some time ago, has returned to this city and was at once placed under arrest.

A Suit For Divorce.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 30.—Mrs. K. E. Krosen has sued for divorce from Dr. J. C. Krosen, who is prominent in certain branches of Masonry. The grounds are cruelty and refusal to support. They were married in 1870 and have a family of four children.

The Jump Broke Her Neck.

SANDUSKY, O., Aug. 30.—While Mrs. Schurz of this city was out driving, a horse attached to the carriage became frightened and ran away. Mrs. Schurz leaped from the carriage, striking on her head and breaking her neck.

Noted Speakers There.

A SIREN LURED HIM.

The Vanderbilt Scandal Caused No Surprise.

W. K.'S BAD ACTIONS IN PARIS

Brought Two Years' of Estrangement to a Crisis—His Wife Will Sue For Divorce—His Open Liaison With a Famous Parisian Beauty.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The statement that Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt is about to begin separation or divorce proceedings has not, it is alleged, created surprise in circles where the relations of the pair have been known. That they have not lived harmoniously the last two years has been the gossip of fashionable circles for some time. The crisis in their affairs, it is alleged by a person who pretends to know, was reached immediately after the running of the Grand Prix in Paris, June 17, of this year.

"Mr. Vanderbilt," says this authority, "won 40,000 francs on the race and almost immediately after receiving his winnings was introduced to a woman well known for her beauty and numerous following among the lights of sweldom. This person was Nellie Neustretter. She fascinated the millionaire and as an evidence of his appreciation of her company he presented her the 40,000 francs so openly that several friends saw the unusual occurrence and remonstrated with him. The story of how he fitted up a magnificent establishment for her in Paris and subsequently gave her a residence at Deauville, with servants and every luxury she desired, is true.

"It shocked and surprised the American residents of Paris, but Mr. Vanderbilt was so open in his attention as to puzzle everybody. One of the most surprising things he did was to allow the servants of Nellie Neustretter to wear the same livery as that worn by Mrs. Vanderbilt's servants. This fact has been noticed and commented upon by every person who saw her and her equipage in Paris and Deauville."

The Vanderbilts, it is said, have lived apart since early last spring. Mrs. Vanderbilt has spent the summer in England, at an extensive estate on the Thames near London, which had been rented for her, while Mr. Vanderbilt has spent his time in Paris. It is alleged that, when, some time ago, a tentative agreement of separation was reached, Mr. Vanderbilt agreed to settle upon his wife $10,000,000.

Stein and Ehret were the opposing pitchers. Both were hit hard, but Stein had the luck with him when the Pittsburgs had men on bases. "Veteran" Dan Burns drove the ball to the far end of the grounds for a home in the sixth inning. Steers of Brown university, who recently played with the New Bedford, Mass. team, made his first appearance as a Pittsburger. He did not hit the ball, but nevertheless handles himself like a born ball player. Attendance, 800. Score:

Wild Threats Made By Vice President Howard.

ADVISED THE KILLING OF MEN

Who Tried to Go to Work In the Places of Strikers—Witnesses Testify Concerning Speeches Made at Meetings—Strike Commission About Through.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The strike commission has completed its examination of witnesses. An opportunity will now be given for the introduction of some rebuttal evidence, but it is thought probable that no more testimony will be heard. The last witnesses were residents of Blue Island, where much of the rioting occurred. But few of them gave testimony of importance.

W. D. Fuller, the Rock Island railroad agent at Blue Island, said that he had attended a meeting at which Vice President Howard of the American Railway Union called George M. Pullman vile names.

"Howard said Pullman should be hanged," said the witness, "and declared that he would help do the job if somebody would make the motion."

H. R. Saunders, a merchant, said he had heard Howard make similar remarks at a meeting of strikers. Saunders also swore that Howard had advised the men to "kill any scab that tries

FROM THE RANKS.

BY CAPT. CHARLES KING.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The sun is not an hour high, but the bivouac at the springs is far behind. With advance guard and flankers well out, the regiment is tramping its way, full of eagerness and spirit. The men can hardly refrain from bursting into song, but although at "route step" the fact that Indian scouts have already been sighted scurrying from bluff to bluff is sufficient to warn all hands to be silent and alert. Wilton, with his company, is on the dangerous flank and guards it well. Armitage, with Company B, covers the advance, and his men are strung out in long skirmish line across the trail wherever the ground is sufficiently open to admit of deployment. Where it is not, they spring ahead and explore every point where Indian may lurk and render ambuscade of the main column impossible. With Armitage is McLeod, the cavalry sergeant who made the night ride with the scout who bore the dispatches. The scout has galloped on toward the railway with news of the rescue; the sergeant guides the infantry re-enforcement. Observant men have noted that Armitage and the sergeant have had a vast deal to say to each other during the chill hours of the early morn. Others have noted that at the first brief halt the captain rode back, called Colonel Maynard to one side and spoke to him in low tones. The colonel was seen to start with astonishment. Then he said a few words to his second in command and rode forward with Armitage to join the advance. When the regiment moved on again and the head of column hove in sight of the skirmishers, they saw that the colonel, Armitage and the sergeant of cavalry were riding side by side, and that the officers were paying close attention to all the dragoon was saying. All were eager to hear the particulars of the condition of affairs at the corral, and all were disposed to be envious of the mounted captain who could ride alongside the one participant in the rescuing charge and get it all at first hand. The field officers, of course, were mounted, but every line officer marched afoot with him, except that three horses had been picked up at the railway and impressed by the quartermaster in case of need, and these were assigned to the captains who happened to command the skirmishers and flankers.

But no man had the faintest idea what manner of story that tall sergeant was telling. It would have been of interest to every soldier in the command, but to no one so much so as to the two who were his absorbed listeners. Armitage, before their early march, had frankly and briefly set before him his suspicions as to the case and the trouble in which Miss Renwick was involved. No time was to be lost. Any moment might find them plunged in fierce battle, and who could foretell the results, who could say what might happen to prevent this her vindication ever reaching the ears of her accusers? Some men wondered why it was that Colonel Maynard sent his compliments to Captain Chester and begged that at the next halt he would join him. The halt did not come for a long hour, and when it did come it was very brief, but Chester received another message and went forward to find his colonel sitting in a little grove with the cavalryman while the orderly held their horses a short space away. Armitage had gone forward to his advance, and Chester showed no surprise at the sight of the sergeant seated side by side with the colonel and in confidential converse with him. There was a quaint twinkle in Maynard's eyes as he greeted his old friend.

"Chester," said he, "I want you to be better acquainted with my stepson, Mr. Renwick. He has an apology to make to you."

The tall soldier had risen the instant he caught sight of the newcomer, and even at the half playful tone of the colonel would relax in no degree his soldierly sense of the proprieties. He stood erect and held his hand at the salute, only very slowly lowering it to take the one so frankly extended him by the captain, who, however, was grave and quiet.

"I have suspected as much since day-break," he said, "and no man is gladder to know it is you than I am."

"You would have known it before, sir, had I had the faintest idea of the danger in which my foolishness had involved my sister. The colonel has told you of my story. I have told him and Captain Armitage what led to my mad freak at Sibley, and while I have much to make amends for I want to apologize for the blow I gave, you that night on comrades alike were proud. He never dreamed—indeed, how few there are who do—that a man of his character, standing and ability is honored and respected by the very men whom the customs of the service require him to speak with only when spoken to. He supposed that only as Fred Renwick could he extend his hand to one of their number, whereas it was under his soldier name he won their trust and admiration, and it was as Sergeant McLeod the officers of the —th were backing him for a commission that would make him what they deemed him fit to be—their equal.

Unable to penetrate the armor of reserve and discipline which separates the officer from the rank and file, he never imagined that the colonel would have been the first to welcome him had he known the truth. He believed that now his last chance of seeing his mother was gone until that coveted commission was won. Then came another blow. The doctor told him that with his heart trouble he could never pass the physical examination. He could not hope for preferment, then, and must see her as he was and see her secretly and alone. Then came blow after blow. His shooting had failed, so had that of others of his regiment, and he was ordered to return in charge of the party early on the morning. The order reached him late in the evening, and before breakfast time on the following day he was directed to start with his party for town, thence by rail to his distant post. That night, in desperation, he made his plan. Twice before he had strolled down to the post, and with yearning eyes had studied every feature of the colonel's house. He dared ask no questions of servants or of the men in garrison, but he learned enough to know which rooms were theirs, and he had noted that the windows were always open. If he could only see their loved faces, kneel and kiss his mother's hand, pray God to forgive him, he could go away believing that he had undone the spell and revoked the malediction of his early youth. It was hazardous, but worth the danger. He could go in peace and sin no more toward mother, at least, and then if she mourned and missed him could he not find it out some day and make himself known to her after his discharge? He slipped out of camp, leaving his boots behind and wearing his light Apache moccasins and flannel shirt and trousers. Danger to himself he had no great fear of. If by any chance mother or sister should wake, he had but to stretch forth his hand and say, "It is only I—Fred." Danger to them he never dreamed of.

Strong and athletic, despite his slender frame, he easily lifted the ladder from Jerrold's fence, and dodging the sentry when he spied him at the gate finally took it down back of the colonel's and raised it to a rear window. By the strangest chance the window was closed, and he could not budge it. Then he heard the challenge of a sentry around on the east front and had just time to slip down and lower the ladder when he heard the rattle of a sword and knew it must be the officer of the day. There was no time to carry off the ladder. He left it lying where it was and sprang down the steps toward the station. Soon he heard No. 5 challenge and knew the officer had passed on; waited some time, but nothing occurred to indicate that the ladder was discovered, and then, plucking up courage and with a muttered prayer for guidance and protection, he stole up hill again, raised the ladder to the west wall, noiselessly ascended, peered in Alice's window and could see a faint night light burning in the hall beyond, but that all was darkness there, stole around on the roof of the piazza to the hall window, stepped noiselessly upon the sill, climbed over the lowered sash and found himself midway between the rooms. He could hear the colonel's placid snoring and the regular breathing of the other sleepers. No time was to be lost. Shading the little night lamp with one hand, he entered the open door, stole to the bedside, took one long look at his mother's face, knelt, breathed upon, but barely brushed with his trembling lips, the queenly white hand that lay upon the coverlet, poured forth one brief prayer to God for protection and blessing for her and forgiveness for him, retraced his steps and caught sight of the lovely picture of Alice in the directoire costume. He longed for it and could not resist. She had grown so beautiful, so exquisite. He took it, frame and all, carried it into her room, slipped the card from its place and hid it inside the breast of his shirt, stowed the frame away behind her sofa pillow, then looked long at the lovely picture she herself made, lying there sleeping sweetly and peacefully amid the white drapings of her dainty bed. Then 'twas time to go. He put the lamp back in the hall, passed through her room, out at her window and down the ladder and had it well on the way back to the hooks on Jerrold's fence when seized and challenged by the officer of the day. Mad terror possessed him then. He struck blindly, dashed off in panicky flight, paid no heed to sentry's cry or whistling missile, but tore like a racer up the path and never slackened speed till Sibley was far behind.

Richie Likely to Be Elected.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias accomplished nothing but routine business, and an early adjournment was taken to give the committee time to outline the work. The election of officers will take place this week. It is predicted that Vice Supreme Chancellor Walter B. Richie of Ohio will be elected supreme chancellor to succeed W. W. Blackwell.

Evidently Murder and Robbery.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Timothy J. Dacey, assistant engineer of the Hyde Park pumping works, was found dead in a grove at Sixty-eighth street and Euclid avenue. There was a wound on his left breast just over the heart which caused death. His gold watch and chain and $26 in money were missing.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The knowing ones are talking of a wedding that will take place before the snow flies.

Several of the local musicians contemplate the organization of a new mandolin club.

The Cleveland & Pittsburg is feeling prosperity to such an extent that all freight cars are being called in.

The kilnmen's local union will meet tomorrow evening to complete arrangements for their turn out in the parade on Labor Day.

The steamer Bedford has been raised and repairs are being made on the boat. She will enter the Pittsburg and Wheeling trade again as soon as the river rises sufficiently.

Billy Lee, Henry Webber and Jim Walters went out to Williamsport yesterday to visit the New Lisbon boys in camp there. The campers are having an enjoyable time and expect to stay out several weeks.

Yard Brakeman T. C. Weaver, of Wellsville, is limping about because of an accident which he met in this city only a few days ago. He was throwing the Broadway switch when the ball fell on one of his feet and almost crushed the bones.

Miss Minnie Wilson entertained about 40 young friends at her home on Broadway last night, in honor of Miss Lucy Milby, of Pittsburg, who is her guest at present. An elegant lunch was served and the evening was one of rare pleasure to all.

The cases of Hyman Barnett for $80 and George Peach & Son for $4.40 against Hyman Browsky come up before Squire Travis tomorrow morning and afternoon. They will no doubt prove interesting as Barnett says Hyman refuses settlement because the plaintiff in the first case is a minor.

If practicing counts for anything the races on Labor Day, next Monday, will be worth seeing and unusual good time will be made. Prospective contestants in the foot and bicycle races are practicing nightly on the race track at East End, and expect to make the coming events the most interesting held for some time.

Several parties have been in the city during this week and the chances for the location of at least two stores are said to be good. The brightening of business has attracted attention from parties out of town and all are anxious to locate in Liverpool. A grocery and commission tea and coffee house are among the prospective stores.

The picnic of the local and East End Daughters of America and Daughters of Liberty, Junior and Senior Mechanics, is being held at Rock Spring today and quite a crowd is in attendance. A number from the Wellsville orders are present, and the secret society people and their friends are spending an enjoyable day at the grove.

A number of business men have been interviewed on the idea of a street sweeper for the city and they like private citizens seem anxious to have the machine. Some even speak of helping pay the cost of operating it as they did the street sprinkler at one time. All seen are favorable to both sprinkler and sweeper, and believe the city could be easily kept clean.

Friends in this city have received word that Denver Ed Smith, a former Liverpool boy and the man who was at the ringside in Florida to challenge the winner of the Corbett-Mitchell contest, will fight on or before Oct. 1 with Ed Farrell. The mill will take place in Denver and the stakes are $5,000 a side. Smith's friends here are confident that their man will win.

The Grand Army boys are ready for Pittsburg. They have the rates to go and stopping places when they get there. A number of members have been added to the post at recent meetings and a good turn out is expected. Many persons not identified with the organization will also go, and it is expected that the encampment will draw more people from the city than any attraction Pittsburg has ever had.

The haze which almost obscures the sun, and at best makes it appear nothing more than a ball of fire, is due largely to the vast amount of smoke in the air. The country is so dry that along the railroads fires are raging with more or less intensity, while the prairie fires in Dakota have sent their quota to help the cause along. For days the region of the Mississippi river was covered, but that is clearing away as the vast volume of smoke moves eastward.

In an unguarded moment, while the doorkeeper wasn't watching at the Democratic convention yesterday afternoon, a farmer presumably of the converted kind wandered in and took a seat away up front. When the speaker remarked that "our party is not debauched by years of political crime, of stealing and duplicity" the newcomer looked paralyzed and wearily sighed, "Well, I don't wonder. Some of the Democrats have such a hard cheek and pigheaded stubbornness that I guess they won't be debauched until some time this fall."

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well.

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This one small bottle cured them all and he had some left which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewistown, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cents bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

—Dory Poe, a well known riverman of the Cincinnati wharves, is spending his vacation at his home in Georgetown, Pa.

My boy was taken with a disease resembling bloody flux. The first thing I thought of was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. I will answer any inquiries regarding it when stamp is inclosed. I refer to any county official as to my reliability. Wm. Roach, J. P., Primory, Campbell Co., Tenn. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

—William Foster, of Baden, Pa., who has been the guest of friends in this city, returned home this morning.

"I know an old soldier who had chronic diarrhoea of long standing to have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy," says Edward Shumppick, a prominent druggist of Minneapolis, Minn. "I have sold this remedy in this city for over seven years and consider it superior to any other medicine now on the market for bowel complaints." 25 and 50 cent bottles of this remedy for sale by A. A K. OF L. LAW SUIT.

Ousted Members Making a Fight to Be Reinstated.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30. — John O'Keefe, A. H. H. Leiff and Patrick O'Donoghue, members of local assembly, No. 6401 of the Knights of Labor, have begun proceedings in the common pleas court of this city against General Master Workman James R. Sovereign, Secretary-Treasurer John W. Hayes, Henry R. Martin and Charles A. French, the general executive board of the K. of L., and Henry C. Traphagen and William O. Begley to compel the board to reinstate them as members of the order. The suit grows out of the dissensions in which District Assembly No. 1 has been involved for months past. The bill says that at a meeting on Aug. 7 Traphagen, who was district master workman and chairman of the district assembly meeting, obstructed business by refusing to entertain regular motions, appeals, etc. Finding that they could do nothing while this action continued the members of the district assembly by unanimous vote deposed Traphagen, who then tried to remove the charter but was prevented.

On Aug. 15, it is set out Traphagen issued a call for a meeting of District Assembly No. 1, on Aug. 19. At this were present Sovereign, McGuire and several other members of the general executive board, but the complainants and other delegates of the District assembly refused to recognize it as a legal meeting. Sovereign removed the presiding officer and attempted to preside himself, and to induce the delegates to consent to the formation of a meeting. They, however, refused, and there was no meeting. In consequence of this the general executive board, on Aug. 20, expelled the complainants.

A Big Steamer Ashore.

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., Aug. 30. — The new passenger steamer Northwest, of the Great Northern railroad line, stranded at Bar Point light, on Lake Erie, about two miles from the mouth of the Detroit river. Dense smoke from forest fires lay on the surface of the water, completely obscuring the light-ship maintained by the government at that dangerous point. The steamer ran out 10 feet forward, and as she draws but 14 feet of water astern, her bow is practically lifted in the air by the tremendous shock of her stranding. A panic occurred among the passengers.

Will Test the Tariff Bill.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 30. — A prominent lumber firm of this city has filed a protest against the decision of Collector Pomeroy, which will necessitate a test of the constitutionality of the new tariff bill. The firm imported on Aug. 15 a cargo of lumber on which, under the McKinley bill, the duties would have been $97.50. This they paid under protest, claiming that the new bill should go into effect Aug. 1.

FIRST TRANSATLANTIC STEAMER.

She Was an American Vessel Using Both Sails and Steam.

The first steamer to cross the Atlantic was an American vessel called the Savannah. She was a steamship, and used both sails and steam, and was built by Crocker & Fickett at Corlear's Hook in New York city. The present belief is that she was built by a party of capitalists who intended to sell her to some foreign monarch. She was commanded by Captain Moses Rogers and was a ship rigged vessel of nearly 400 tons. She had a horizontal engine, which was placed between her decks, and her boilers were in the lower hold.

It is generally admitted that the Savannah sailed from New York in 1819, going to Savannah, her namesake, in seven days, four of which she used steam. There she was chartered by the city corporation to go to Charleston to take President Monroe, who was then traveling through the states on a pleasure excursion. He failed to accept the invitation, and the boat returned to Savannah. After remaining at this port for some days and taking out parties of curiosity as well as pleasure seekers the Savannah sailed for Liverpool, reaching it after a voyage of 18 days, seven of which were made under steam.

The arrival of the strange looking vessel, with huge clouds of smoke ascending from her decks and obscuring her rigging, caused quite a commotion when she entered St. George's channel off the city of Cork, and the commander of the British man-of-war lying in the harbor thought she was a vessel in distress and sent two cutters to board her. Everything found all right, however, the Savannah was allowed to proceed on her way, and thousands of people greeted her as she steamed up the Mersey to Liverpool with the American flag flying at her head. The Savannah then made a trip to Copenhagen, Cronstadt and St. Petersburg and then returned to this country, where she was relieved of her steam apparatus and for many years ran as a packet between New York and Savannah, finally going ashore and breaking up on Long Island.

The Savannah was, of course, a side wheeler, and as it was impossible to carry a sufficient supply of fuel in her to keep up steam on a long voyage her wheels were removed during good sailing weather and canvas substituted. The king of Sweden wanted to buy the boat when it was abroad, but the deal went through. Now, those are the facts about the first steamship that ever crossed the Atlantic ocean.—Washington Star.

HOW TO STUDY PROPERLY.

Books Should Be Well Chosen and Read Carefully, Not Devoured.

Study is like a dinner. The viands must be well chosen and eaten slowly, not devoured, then well turned over in the mental stomach for awhile until with ease and comfort they are perfectly digested and furnish nutriment to the brain. Most students study without thought, which is like eating without digesting. Others read merely as a fad and soon forget all they may have learned.

The most satisfactory method of study is the digestive. It is the thorough one—the one that gives strength to the brain. Take the subject you are studying. Read a few lines or a few pages, as the case may be, then put the book down and think on what you have read. Turn it about in your mind from every standpoint. Do not accept it immediately. Argue for and against it in your mind. In other words, masticate it. You need not be at your leisure to do this. Do it in your walks, in your idle moments, at any time. When you have satisfied yourself on the subject, go on with a little more in the same way. In a short time you will find yourself more a thorough student than if you had read all at a sitting. The best educated man in the end is the man who learns slowly, but surely.—New York Advertiser.

As to Marriage.

Father—I understand you think of getting married?
Son—Yes, sir.
Father—Have you given the matter your calm consideration and deliberated thoroughly upon the gravity and importance of the step as well as upon the uncertainties and possibilities of the new relation?
Son—No, sir.
Father—You have not? And why have you not?
Son—Because, sir, I really want to get married.
Father—Um—er—ah—I guess you are right about it. Go ahead. It's the only way, I fancy.—Detroit Free Press.
